Part game show, part reality TV, and part spoof, FETCH! WITH RUFF RUFFMAN features real kids, real challenges, real science, and an unreal animated host - a dog named Ruff Ruffman. The series mixes live-action with animation, and breaks the mold with its educational and comical take on America's newest television genre. Targeting six- to ten-year-olds, the series is spontaneous, unscripted, and full of surprises. Fetch is produced by WGBH Boston. School rights: one year off-air recording rights each broadcast.

The website includes detailed program descriptions, viewing tips, activities, downloadable activity guides, recommended books and links, plus games for kids. www.pbskids.org/fetch.
