

THE

ALIENS!

Huver Macintosh woke up to another typical day (or so he thought). He turned on his Holo-Photo and his bed's breakfast machine. His breakfast was bacon, scrambled eggs, and orange juice, of course.

When Huvver went outside to get in his car to buy groceries at the Grocery Store, a common store
on Mars, he heard a whirring sound.
'Must be a Hovercar with a broken muffler,' thought Huvver.

But it wasn't a broken
muffler, it was a rover
waking up from a long journey from earth.

While Huvver was at the store, a man came in saying, well, screaming, that he had seen a robotic alien (the rover). It was like this for years.

Then, a couple years later a sighting happened.
A strange creature
with five fingers!

All the sightings kept the MAF, (the Mars Air Force), busy.

On Earth and Mars,
the subject of aliens
is still a mystery.
